

Unforgettable

Michael E. Stone

Is there anything unforgettable?
Anything graven on our hearts forever?
As the years pass, I wonder,
For forgetting has joined my life.

What, at 10, I thought
I would never forget,
I can't remember now.

Instead, I remember remembering things that I now longer remember.
Are nested memories forgotten?
I haven't yet forgotten that once I remembered
something I since forgot.

June 8, 2012